ACADEMIC PROJECTS:

PROJECT : Student Management System.

Technology: Web Technology

Engineering and medical institutes usually have a number of departments and courses. Managing all these department and course data manually is a very tedious, ineffective and expensive task. Our system firstly consists of student database needed by faculty as per their requirement. The system allows to input student attendance into the database which can later be viewed by concerned faculties and students. The students may view their personal attendance and assignment submission data through a separate student login. The time table is then available to be viewed on the web portal. The system also allows to manage the training and placement department. Here students may view latest vacancies and the admin may post vacancies as per criteria of selection.
